3D Touch - a “must” in any three dimensional Wold

We have worked quietly in our labs for many years to present you with the worlds first 3D touch user interface. Unique Automation has not only given touch sensing another dimension, but also made it completely waterproof. iShower® 3D will be available for sale at Grand Designs Live (12-14 October 2012) in Birmingham.

No larger than a hockey puck, iShower® 3D controls up to 4 outlets with precision. A total output of 100 litres per minute. Individual flow and temperature control is applied to each outlet when needed. The device can store up to 15 presets and it is as simple to install as a postage stamp<sup>1</sup>. It is completely waterproof and of a solid, glass construction carrying a LIFE TIME WARRANTY<sup>2</sup>.

The 3D touch works similarly to the turning of an amplifier knob with the difference that nothing moves apart from your fingers. You slide up to five fingers around the edge of the interface clockwise or counter clockwise for control of temperature/flow as well as other parameters.

iShower® 3D will be available through our web site www.iShower.co.uk as a standard off the shelf product in 1-way to 4-way versions. The retail pricing including VAT is expected to be:
