Steam Up Your Daily Routine

Available for almost any size space, steam generators are easily installed during new home construction and bathroom remodels. Unique Automation offers generators with a slim design that can be mounted out of sight in a cabinet, closet, basement or insulated attic up to 15 meters away from the shower. In addition to the generator, a basic steam system only requires a control and a steam outlet to provide a relaxing retreat as well as a wealth of health benefits. From hydrating skin and soothing sore muscles to providing relief for allergies, asthma and arthritis, the power of steam is unrivalled.

For those interested in further elevating their spa experience, the steamomatic® family allows homeowners to customize the system to their unique preferences. Offering a menu of advanced options, the new steamomatic® collection features digital and remote control options as well as the selectable InstaMist™ feature that provides steam in seconds. Additional options include AromaSense™, which adds fragrant essential oils into the steam; ChromaSense™, which sets the mood with variable colour lighting; and AudioSense™, which features a wall-mount dock for an iPod and allows the user to enjoy their favourite music in the shower. steamomatic® connects to your LAN allowing wireless control from anywhere by a smartphone, iPad, iPod touch or any browser enabled device.

Based in London, UK Unique Automation offers globally a full line of residential steam generators and bathroom products and systems, as well as a range of user interfaces for home automation and building management systems.
